Beginning September 12, Sunday mornings at Plymouth Church will have an exciting new feel. Never fear, your favorites stay. Worship at 9 and 11 a.m. Fellowship Forum. Church School. But this year, we’re not stopping there. Plymouth is taking things up a notch! And we couldn’t be more excited.

How about a catered hot breakfast from 8:15-10:30, in the friendly “living room” spaces of the church – Greenwood, Burling and the courtyard? Join us as we lean into the Hospitality & Belonging pillar of our Strategic Plan.

Then, if Fellowship Forum is your gig, it’s there. The 10 a.m. time slot also is now packed with an hour of faith formation programs for all ages. Church School for kids moves to 10 a.m. They’re not the only ones getting an education. Our goal is to offer meaningful faith formation by having a dependable and consistent time for education. This new 10–10:50 a.m. time slot eliminates the previous erratic timing of education for children dependent on when they were dismissed from worship. This will be better for children and will also create new opportunities for parents and all adults within the congregation.

How’s that? Adult education too? Yes, the 10 a.m. time slot isn’t just for kids. It’s for people of all ages, with Fellowship Forum, and a robust, varied and frequently changing schedule of classes in faith formation hosted by clergy and lay leaders.

You might wonder how we’re packing this all into an already busy morning. We’re doing it by shortening our 9 a.m. worship service with a specific aim to make it more accessible to people of all ages (children especially). We believe that people learn to worship by worshiping together. We hope to form a new generation of people who find joy and delight in worship, and that begins by worshiping together. We are also preparing liturgy for this 45-minute service that should be more engaging for people of all ages in both worship services.

Our 11 a.m. worship service will continue as previously scheduled with modifications to the liturgy to more fully engage people of all ages.

Why are we making these changes?
The people of Plymouth have been surveyed multiple times in the last few years, sharing their feedback with Plymouth leaders (both staff and lay) so we can set priorities and move where the Spirit is calling us next.

In the survey of the congregation 3.5 years ago, a clear desire surfaced for more education, formation, and spiritual growth opportunities for adults. In the survey of parents with young children a year and a half ago, a clear desire surfaced for more family friendly worship opportunities, more consistent and reliable

Exploring Christian Faith:
New Adult Education Series

Want to breathe new life into your understanding of the Christian faith?

Starting on Sunday, September 12 at 10 a.m., the Board of Spiritual Growth and Adult Education is offering a course on “Faith” from the Animate series.

For seven weeks we’ll explore the central topics of Christianity through videos from leading Christian voices:
• God: Faith is a Quest from Brian McLaren
• Religion: Spirituality Is Not Enough from Lillian Daniel
• Jesus: The Revolution of Love from Mark Scandrette
• Salvation: Abundant Life Now from Shane Hipps
• Cross: Where God Is from Nadia Bolz-Weber
• Bible: A Book Like No Other from Lauren Winner
• Church: An Imperfect Family from Bruce Reyes-Chow

After the videos, we’ll have time for reflection and discussion. Look for location and registration details in Plymouth Weekly or on our Current Happenings page on our website. Class will be facilitated by Stephen Ministers: Brian Leckrone and Shari Simmons.

Discover Plymouth:
Fall 2021 Membership Class

Do you or someone you know want to become a member of Plymouth Church? Have you been worshiping with us for a while and are feeling ready to make it official? Have you participated online over the last year and are interested in learning more about us? Are you interested in getting to know some new people and discover Plymouth in a new way?

Our next Discover Plymouth will start on Sunday, September 19! Led by members of our Board of Membership, the class will meet on three Sunday afternoons from 1-2:30 p.m.

We will talk about who we are, how we worship, and how we are working to serve our central Iowa community. Come join us and see if Plymouth is the right church home for you.

church school programming, and more opportunities for parents to engage in their own spiritual growth and formation. Plymouth’s strategic plan surfaced education and a commitment to our children and youth as huge priorities. And COVID has created a hunger in people to make meaning of our own lives, and a need to gather together to share.

We have been listening! A group of staff representing Worship, Music, Connections, and Education (for adults, youth, children, and families) met to process what we’ve heard and draft a new Sunday morning schedule to meet the needs of a new moment in our life as a congregation. Starting September 12, we are implementing changes that will provide more consistent and robust opportunities for fellowship, formation through worship, and classes for people of all ages.

STEPHEN MINISTRY

What is Stephen Ministry? Our Stephen Ministers are trained members of Plymouth Church who are available to help bring a spiritual presence into your life through caring, listening, and prayer. If you are struggling with something in your life and looking for someone to walk it with you, please reach out. Contact LeAnn Stubbs at 515.255.3149 or lstubbs@plymouthchurch.com to discuss having a Stephen Minister assigned to work with you.
In 2007, during my fourth year working as a janitor at a U.S. Customs and Border Protection processing facility near Ajo, Arizona, I asked for permission to retrieve canned food from the trash. The food had been carried by migrants and confiscated and discarded by Border Patrol agents. I wanted to bring it to a local food bank so it would not go to waste. When I started collecting the food, I saw what else was being thrown out: possessions such as rosaries, Bibles, wallets, toothbrushes, shoes, clothing, belts, and family photos. These confiscations struck me as wrong. The cruelty of stripping away such personal items from vulnerable people is dehumanizing, both to those whose belongings are taken and to those who enforce this policy.

It took several years to find a way to photograph these belongings. I wanted to show my respect for the people who carried them across the desert, and my outrage at this arbitrary and inhumane practice.

I hope that this work encourages people to connect with their own sense of human decency, and to advocate for the better treatment of immigrants in this country.

ABOUT TOM KIEFER

Born in Wichita, Kansas, fine art photographer Tom Kiefer was raised primarily in the Seattle area and worked in Los Angeles as a graphic designer. Kiefer moved to Ajo, Arizona in December 2001 to fully develop and concentrate his efforts in studying and photographing the urban and rural landscape and the related cultural infrastructure. Kiefer’s first project Journey West Exhibit (2001-2011), was created during his process of discovering and documenting the natural and man-made landscape between towns and cities in his adopted state of Arizona.

This show features the personal effects and belongings of people apprehended in the desert by U.S. Border Patrol agents that were confiscated and subsequently discarded as they were processed at a U.S. Customs and Border Protection processing facility in southern Arizona. These personal effects and belongings represented their choice of what was essential for them to bring as they crossed the border to start or continue their life in the U.S.

Kiefer continues to document the vast archive of personal belongings that he recovered between 2007 through August 2014 and produce prints for display to foster community dialogue surrounding the state of migration and the millions of undocumented and essential workers living in a state of fear of our government and their future. Kiefer lives and works in Ajo, Arizona, about 40 miles north of the US-Mexico border.

You can visit Kiefer’s website: tomkiefer.com You can also find Kiefer on Instagram: @tomkiefer.photographer.

This exhibit will be up in the Plymouth Gallery space beginning Saturday, September 4 through the end of October.
A Warmer Welcome

BY: MARCIA GILMER

The Plymouth Welcomes a Refugee Family volunteers have been hard at work preparing for the imminent arrival of our refugee family! Donna Paulsen and Irene Hardisty, of the Furniture & Home Goods Team, recently visited the Plymouth quilting workroom to pick up a special donation: five beautiful quilts created by the Plymouth Quilting Group. Donna described the quilts as thoughtful, artistic gifts representing security and welcome. “The bright colors and patterns make you want to smile!” she added.

Linda Railsback, a long-time member of the Plymouth quilters, said the group is delighted to provide the colorful covers. The past eighteen months have been a period during which the quilters have had to alter their production practices. In addition to quilts, the group has sewn thousands of masks, port pillows, and neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) cloth hearts for many community organizations. Pandemic protocol requires some members to work from home, while a few quilters gather, masked, in the workroom at church.

Should the refugee family need additional quilts or require different sizes, the quilters stand ready to serve. Blessed are the piece-makers!

HEALTH & SAFETY UPDATE

Our refugee family is not guaranteed to be vaccinated for COVID-19 prior to their arrival. The U.S. Committee for Refugees & Immigrants (the resettlement agency with whom Plymouth is partnering) will encourage the family to be vaccinated as part of their medical care after arrival if they’ve not already received the vaccine. As Plymouth prepares to welcome our refugee family, we also want to prioritize the health of everyone involved. Masks will be required and social distancing encouraged for all refugee family project activities. We will continue to follow the Plymouth Church Health and Safety Task Force and CDC guidelines as circumstances change.

Stitched with love, these beautiful quilts will add cheer and warmth to our refugee family’s home.

Building Cultures of Call

BY: KAREN QUANCE JESKE

Our new Strategic Plan is centered around the notion that each of us is “called” to be a minister of Jesus Christ at home, at work, and in the community. Attuning ourselves to our “calls” acknowledges that the vitality of the church resides in each of us and is also nurtured and honed within our church community.

So how can a congregation build up its culture of call, both to nurture the particular ministry of the congregation (and that of its members), and to call forth future pastoral leadership for the Church? Happily, at Plymouth, we have some building blocks already in place.

On July 9, as part of the United Church of Christ’s (UCC) General Synod, I participated in a workshop with UCC leaders from across the country to explore this question. Using lessons from Kirkwood UCC in Atlanta, a church with a very robust Member in Discernment program, and Plymouth’s Transition into Ministry program, we explored best practices and ideas for local churches looking to build stronger cultures of call.

Although both of the featured examples were focused on support for authorized ministers or clergy, the lessons of nurture and support also apply to the ways Plymouth plans to build on the success of the TiM program to support the discernment processes of our members as well.

Some of the key lessons that surfaced during the workshop include:

- the important role we all can play in mentoring and supporting one another just as we mentor and support our TiM Residents
- the need for formal support and tools as well as regular opportunities to show-up, check-in, share and reflect with each other
- the need to celebrate and recognize this kind of discernment work among our membership

It was truly an honor to know how respected our TiM program is across the UCC and to share the lessons we’ve learned through this ministry, but the most exciting part is a glimpse of how we can take the culture we’ve started to build through our TiM program and expand it in service toward all of your own transitions in ministry as well.

FINANCIAL PEACE UNIVERSITY

Do you feel weighed down by debt? Are you feeling alone and stressed with how much money you owe to student loans, credit cards, car loans or your mortgage? Financial Peace will offer you a nonjudgmental, supportive group that works!

Since 2013 over 100 families at Plymouth have paid off a total of $325,000 in non-mortgage debt, with each class group averaging $38,961.

One couple who recently completed the class paid off $27,142 in debt and cut up six credit cards, as well as planning to pay off the remaining balance of a five-year car loan in eight months. We invite you to consider joining us for the next class beginning Sunday January 2, 2022!
In July, Plymouth organized a take-home virtual Vacation Bible School program for families to participate in. We had a total of 49 families participate and 98 children total!

Please enjoy some wonderful photos here of our Plymouth kids. If you have any photos from VBS that you’d like to share with Plymouth, please email them to Georgia Sheriff: gsheriff@plymouthchurch.com.
At Plymouth, we joyfully embrace the lifelong journey of growing in love of God and neighbor. We’re excited to launch into a fall season of programming for children and youth of all ages that helps to do just that. COVID-19 has increased the need for patience, flexibility, and grace in our expectations of ourselves and each other. As of the writing of this guide, children under the age of 12 are not eligible to receive vaccine and the Delta variant is on the rise. And, we know that in the midst of this, you all are preparing and making decisions about the start of school. We pray for health and safety for you and for all people.

With that in mind, we are committed to creating flexible programming that meets the needs of children, youth, and families of all ages. Part of what COVID-19 has taught us is commitment to any program includes commitment to our own health and well-being and that of our fellow humans. This is part of how we grow in love of God and neighbor! When this commitment is honored through regular participation and ongoing communication related to exposure or illness, children, youth, and families reap the benefits of a tightly woven community where they are loved and can grow in the life of the spirit, trusting that their physical safety and well-being is being cared for.

Registration for 2021-2022 Children & Youth Programming is now open. Deadlines vary depending on age and program:

- Pre-K to 6th Church School: Friday, September 3
- 7th to 8th Confirmation: Saturday, September 11
- 9th to 12th HS Youth: Friday, October 1
- All Choirs: Friday, September 3

Please note, we are working with the Plymouth Committee for Health and Safety and also using documents produced by Des Moines Public Schools and the CDC to create a safe and healthy environment for children, youth, families, staff and volunteers.

We look forward to our ongoing partnership and your input and ideas as we plan and provide programming for children and youth in the months ahead.

Registration links are available on our website. Forms are for all children/youth (age 3 to grade 12) participating in the 2021-2022 program year. You will find two different forms, one for non-music programming and one for music programming. To help make things easy for you and our staff, please try to make only one submission for your family. For more information and links to register, visit: plymouthchurch.com/registration-2021-2022
Volunteers Needed
For Children & Youth Activities

On this page are volunteer opportunities for adults who would like to get involved with Children & Youth programming. All volunteers at Plymouth are required to complete a background check.

CHILDREN’S CHOIR VOLUNTEERS

WANTED! Caring adults who love children to serve as rehearsal room assistants, hall monitors, or greeters, from 5-6:15 p.m. on Wednesdays, September to May.

What is a room assistant? Room assistants are willing helpers, working with the Choir Director to welcome students, check and record attendance, supervise restroom trips, and whatever else might be needed during the rehearsal time.

What is a hall monitor/greeter? As part of ensuring security and hospitality for our families, we need friendly faces to welcome children and families into the building and continue to monitor access and activity throughout a defined area during the rehearsal time.

Both of these roles are a great way to interact with kids, meet young families, and build the social fabric of our faith community. Volunteer every week or just once a month, whatever fits your schedule! A background check is required for these roles. For more information or to sign up, contact Diane Hayes (dhayes@plymouthchurch.com).

CHURCH SCHOOL VOLUNTEERS

Programs for Children and Families can only happen with volunteers! This is what our volunteers are saying:

• “I had more fun than the kids!”
• “This event is just as much for the volunteers as it is for kids and families!”
• “I love getting to know children and helping them learn about God’s love”

There are so many ways to volunteer! Teens and adults of all ages can find a match. Here are a few ideas.

• Prepare materials for Church School when it works for you!
• Help lead a class or small group.
• Be a craft leader.
• Help with Vacation Bible School.
• Be a greeter!
• Teach a hobby.
• Help with technology during online.

For more information, contact Georgia Sheriff (gsheriff@plymouthchurch.com).

CELEBRATION OF INTERNATIONAL PEACE DAY

“For the Turning of the World” is the theme of the International Day of Peace Observance. The service will take place Tuesday, September 21 at 6:30 p.m. at the Cowles Commons’ Peace Garden, 221 Walnut St. Des Moines. Bridges of Harmony will provide music and DMARC’s Interfaith Summer Camp participants will express a vision of peace and a position against war shared by all faith traditions. Plymouth’s Peace Committee is a co-sponsor of the program.
Why I Support & Work with AMOS
A Mid Iowa Organizing Strategy

BY: SHEENA THOMAS

“IT teaches people to lead.”
“IT magnifies my efforts.”
“I have seen it work so well.”
“AMOS lets me have a louder voice.”

These are some of the responses to the question, “Why does AMOS matter to you?” My response was “Because AMOS gets it done” which engendered “What is IT?”

I answered with some hemming and hawing, but on reflection IT is whatever issues the body of people decides are important enough to research. These may be issues that affect one person, but on sharing their story (his, her, their) in a one-on-one conversation or a house meeting, it becomes clear that the same issues may affect many in the community. That is the beginning of an Issues Team, and it engenders action mostly by the people affected. They are the ones who are best at telling their stories to those in power to make changes. They are supported by other AMOS members and member institutions, which in turn is powerful.

LET ME TELL YOU A STORY FROM THIS PAST YEAR.

This is about the Children’s Mental Health Crisis Services unit that is being put in place in Polk County right now. AMOS started working four years ago on the issue of providing dedicated services to the children of Polk County after hearing heartbreaking stories from parents and teachers. This led to AMOS support of Des Moines’ one-cent sales tax IF the city promised to spend on six priorities—one being paying for a Children’s Mental Health Crisis Unit. With promises made by city officials, AMOS members flooded two zip codes in Des Moines with residents reluctant to support such a tax and convinced them that this tax was in their best interest. The sales tax passed, and the city has kept its promises for all six issues and raised $400,000 so far and a continued $400K/year to hire and retain dedicated mental health providers trained for children’s issues specifically. It will also provide for a dedicated van. More information is on its way to you on how to contact the new services and what all they provide.

However, what I want you to know is that this happened because the Mental Health Issues team, exhausted by the years of work on the issue, came to a Delegates Assembly in December 2020 and shared their stories about their work at the State Capitol getting passage of a Children’s Mental Health Bill in 2019 - but no funding. We needed to work at the county level.

About thirty of us responded that we would help and in January, we got to work. We met with each of the County Supervisors, with Liz Cox, with the Chief of Police and the head of the adult mental health crisis team, the school health teams, and teachers, and we met with all but one of the Broadlawns Board of Trustees. We smoothed out some misunderstandings along the way and came together on what we understand to be best practices for children in crisis. It was a massive effort with hundreds of hours of Zoom meetings, but it was worth it for the outcome we have. It would not have happened as quickly, if at all, without the effort AMOS put into it. AMOS got it done.

On September 19, AMOS is hosting a Delegates Assembly right here at Plymouth from 3-4:30 p.m. both in person and virtually. We will have officials here to thank them for their work and education about the new services offered. Please join us.
CURRENT HAPPENINGS

WAVERLAND WALL: UNDER CONSTRUCTION
If you’ve been inside Plymouth in the last couple of weeks, you might have noticed that the History Wall outside of Waveland Hall has been taken down. Never fear! Plymouth’s history is not lost. This is a temporary move, and while the material is down, it will be reformatted as a page on the Plymouth website and as a trifold brochure to be available at the Welcome Center.

For this year, we are using that wall space to encourage engagement with the current and future life of the church. That could range from names and photos of each member of every Plymouth board so you can get to know them, to drawings from Plymouth children expressing their view of the pandemic, to a variety of exhibits about Plymouth’s work in the world.

Thanks for your patience as the new space materializes in September.

DIGITAL LIBRARY
You can access digital books from our library using the Overdrive system. The new digital library is sponsored by the Plymouth Board of Spiritual Growth and funded by a competitive grant from the Plymouth Foundation. Go to plymouthchurch.overdrive.com and set up your login. If you need help signing up, email the Library Committee: overdrive@plymouthchurch.com.

LAWN CONCERTS
Join us on the Ingersoll lawn for the “Sounds of the City” concert series. These concerts are family friendly. We recommend bringing camping chairs for a place to sit during the concert. Masks are not required. In the event of inclement weather, the concert will be moved into the Sanctuary. Please note that some dates have changed:
Sept. 17 (6 p.m.) | Saturday Night Band
Sept. 24 (6 p.m.) | Thornwood Clarinet Quartet

FLOWER DELIVERY TEAM
Have you ever wondered what happens to the flowers after they’ve beautified the space in Sunday service? They are taken apart by a team of volunteers, converted into 2 or 3 smaller bouquets, and delivered to people who might appreciate a floral greeting from their friends at Plymouth. We are gathering an intrepid band of folks who will take turns in this ministry of care for those who are sick or unable to attend service. If you would like to be part of this ministry, please email Diane Hayes: dhayes@plymouthchurch.com.

LEARN ABOUT IOWA’S NEW VOTING LAWS
Have you been removed from voting rolls? Learn more about Iowa’s new voting laws on Sunday, September 26 during Fellowship Forum.

Governor Kim Reynolds signed an extensive bill on Iowa’s new voting laws on March 8, 2021. This bill covers nearly all aspects of how we vote in Iowa.

The Plymouth Justice and Peace Action Network invites you to join Polk County Auditor, Jamie Fitzgerald, at Plymouth’s September 26 Fellowship Forum to learn about the new laws and how they might affect how you and your neighbors vote starting with the November 2 city council/school board elections. You may participate in the Fellowship Forum, which will run from 10:10 a.m. to 10:50 a.m., either in person in the Greenwood Room or via Zoom.

THE RUTH STORY
Join the Plymouth Radio Players for the excitement and fun of bringing to life the story of RUTH. Voice talents are needed to tell this refugee story. A readers style theater event will be performed this fall as part of our church’s refugee mission. The more voices the better, and Mark Gruber hopes to have your voice in mind as this story of RUTH takes shape. Roles include: Naomi, Boaz, Orpah, and the chorus of Moab and Bethlehem. For more information or to get involved, contact Mark: gruberific@gmail.com before Thursday, September 16. Sooner is preferred. You can also reach Mark by phone or by text: 515.988.7002.

CHURCH OFFICE VOLUNTEERS WANTED
Do you have free time during the week and are looking for something safe you can do? Plymouth is looking for volunteers to assist our church staff in covering phone shifts during the week. If you would like to learn more or are interested in volunteering, please contact Betty Fosburgh: bettydickfosburgh@gmail.com.

PRAYER LIST
Each Wednesday, we email out a list of prayers to a group of members and staff who pray over those needs during the week. If you would like to receive these emails or have a prayer request you’d like to lift up, please email Dan Schott: dschott@plymouthchurch.com.

PLYMOUTH IS HIRING
Plymouth is looking for an Education Assistant. If you are interested, visit: plymouthchurch.com/news/plymouth-is-hiring for a full job description and email a resume and cover letter to Emily Tripp: etripp@plymouthchurch.com.
